

Online transfers for Indiana real estate brokers will take place through INBiz, the state’s one-stop resource for businesses, starting September 26, 2017. You can reach the site at INBiz.in.gov.

IPLA is partnering with INBiz, which streamlines the process of opening and operating a business in Indiana, to implement a new and improved online transfer process. Through INBiz, your online transfers will be less cumbersome with quick and easy navigation tools. Please refer to the INBiz website when doing online transfers.

To use the new transfer process, simply

- create an INBiz account,
- link to your existing broker license, then
- complete your transfer request.

You will use your INBiz account to check the status of an existing transfer or to initiate a new transfer.

The below graphic shows the new look of the online transfer system through INBiz. Look for more improvements along the way as the site undergoes continual updates. The INBiz call center is available to answer your questions about the new system.
